

Silkysteps Website

Written by Tracey Mallaby ©2006
Illustrated by Ruth Grimes

Today is National Poetry Day, and so I write this rhyme,
If you would just indulge me, I won't take up much time.

Silkysteps family members is first where I go,
And finish with the forum, so watch this poem grow!

The inspiration for this site is Silky - she's a cat,
With wallpapers and clipart, websites and all that.

Following is Pixel's page, he's Silky's feline friend,
His interactive online games will drive you round the bend!

Third is Mischief - he's a mouse, who loves all crafty stuff,
Next in line is Inky Bear, his activities aren't tough.

Spindle Spider's part of the gang, his colouring pictures are fun,
Activity packs come after that from Omni Orangutan.

Then Calculator Caterpillar has letter and number lines,
Magical Mammoth has recipes, to play with or eat - good times!

Feisty Firefly has great resources, her decorations are famed,
And Navigator Narwhal has some print and play fun games.

Errol Eagle's imagination will inspire child's role play,
Hope Hedgehog's recycling activities will surely save the day!

A handy girl is Stitch Squirrel, if sewing is your thing,
Freeware sites from Tinpot Bot, technology makes him sing.

To the Forum is where we head, for topics of the day,
With posts and threads, advice and laughs,

we make friends on the way.

Parent, teacher, carer, friend, come in - let down your hair,
Fun and friendship - free to all, so please, pull up a chair.

